

WE ARE STRONG

I want thugs.

The real power of a union is in it's thugs. If we can get our own personal thugs then what else could we possibly need? That's the leverage power I want.

A union can do this right?

Rea. L. Small
Philosophical Ethics PhD

THUG-5AM

Unionization does not improve our "leverage" any more than if we actually sent a petition around telling the administration what we would like to have changed. We can't strike. We can't get thugs. We can let our individual voices be heard by actually telling the administration as opposed to voting in another level of bureaucracy.

This poster was made by 5am Productions. No graduate students were harmed or charged 1.15% of their income to create this flier. And sorry I could not think of a good spoof of the pro-unionization groups name for this one. Please do not take this down. If you want a copy, email thug@drakos7.net